Graf Zeppelin Damaged in Flight: is Slowed up

REPAIRS ARE EFFECTED BY CREW TODAY

U.S. Navy Dept. Orders Warcraft to Stand by to Aid Graf

BULLETIN
New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The New York American in a copyrighted radio dispatch from its correspondent on the Graf Zeppelin today will say: "There is no cause for alarm and the damage is being repaired." A further message said the aircraft's stabilizer was off and that her speed was now 40 miles an hour.

BULLETIN
New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The North German Lloyd liner Berlin reported the position of the Graf Zeppelin at 8 a. m., Eastern Standard time this morning as latitude 33.00 north and longitude 39.00 west. This would place the air liner about 1,500 miles from Bermuda.

(By The Associated Press)
The dirigible Graf Zeppelin was apparently in trouble for several hours this morning but latest advices from her indicated that conditions were not serious and that she was making fair progress on her voyage to the United States.

At 6:30 A. M., Eastern Standard time she sent out a message stating that her port horizontal was damaged and requesting that a surface vessel in the vicinity be sent to follow her course.

Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Navy Department received a radio-gram from the Graf Zeppelin stating that she was proceeding at a reduced speed.

The message sent at 6:35 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time and 11:35 o'clock Greenwich Time, said that the ship was damaged on the port horizontal and that repairs were being effected. It requested that a surface vessel in the vicinity follow the course of the airship. It added that the air speed was 35 knots. Naval authorities here said that it was impossible to determine exactly how fast the ship was actually traveling compared to ground speed.

1800 Miles from U. S.
The dirigible's position was 1800 miles east of Charleston, S. C., and 1100 miles east of Bermuda.

The Navy Department ordered all the light cruisers stationed at Hampton Roads and the squadron of destroyers at Charleston, S. C., to be ready to leave immediately for the assistance of the dirigible in case they were needed.

The port horizontal is a fin used as a stabilizer and for vertical motion of the ship and is located on the rear end.

Another message received from the Zeppelin said that at 2 p. m., Greenwich Mean time, or 9 o'clock, Eastern Standard time, the ship was at latitude 33. Degrees north and longitude 45 west, which indicated that she had made some progress.

The message said that the crew had effected limited repairs and at the time expected no need for the surface vessel. The message requested the latest weather reports. It was indicated that the Zeppelin had shifted her course direct for the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J.

Naval authorities figured out that between the time of the first message from the Graf Zeppelin and the second (Continued on page 2)

GUS BONDI INJURED

Gus Bondi, former high school football star and captain of his team, and member of the Notre Dame varsity squad, sustained a bad sprain of his right ankle in practice scrimmage the first of the week, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bondi last evening. Gus played against Wisconsin last Saturday and was numbered among the list who made the trip to Chicago to meet the Navy today, which indicated that his injury was not of a serious character.

MAY LOSE HIS FOOT

Lawrence McCoy of this city, who is employed as a switchman for the Illinois Central at Rockford, sustained a painful injury two weeks ago today which may cost him his right foot, according to word received by relatives here last evening. Larry, as he is better known to his many Dixon friends, was making a coupling while switching in the yards at Rockford, and his right foot was caught between the couplers and was badly mangled. Fish and Game Commissioner Fred Kersten of Ashton met the Senor carrying the rifle in one hand and a fine young rabbit in the other, returning to his camp well satisfied with his trip. Herrera was brought to the county jail in Dixon, where he faced Justice J. O. Shaulis on a charge of shooting rabbits out of season and was assessed a fine of $25 and costs.

Numerous complaints have come to the attention of the game wardens and the sheriff's office during the past few weeks of the slaughter of all classes of game and birds by members of the Mexican labor gang located in the Nachusa yards and Herrera is the first to be apprehended and pay the penalty for this violation.

Painted Glowing Picture of Herb

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A portrait of Herbert Hoover as a humanitarian, a friend of the farmer, an exponent of inland waterways, an engineer and a business man was drawn by Congressman William E. Hull of Peoria speaking at a Republican rally last night.

The Illinois legislator traced the Republican standard bearer's achievements, stressing especially his work as head of the American Relief Administration. He warned his hearers of what he termed the "folly" of taking a chance by electing a Democratic administration "with its record of free trade and resulting financial depression."

He pleaded for a continuation of the "benign prosperity" enjoyed under Republican rule.

Groubeaux applied the brakes, while the car was traveling about thirty miles an hour, and the car skidded into the ditch, overturning. The crash broke the steering wheel the shaft of which penetrated the victim's heart. He was dead when the car was righted.

Coroner Atkins of Forreston conducted an inquest Friday afternoon, which resulted in a verdict of accidental death. The victim's body has been sent to Versailles for burial.

DR. J. CLARENCE SMITH DIED AT AN EARLY HOUR

Funeral Services for Well Known Dixon Man Monday P. M.

Joseph Clarence Smith, one of Dixon's earliest pioneers and a man who was loved by all who knew him, passed away at his residence, 205 Hendepin avenue, at 12:15 this morning. He had been ailing for the past three weeks, but had been bedfast for the past week only.

Mr. Smith was born in Frostburg, Md., April 13, 1848 and at the age of three years with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith came west and settled on a farm about two miles east of Dixon. Since that time he has continued to make his home in and about Dixon. Arriving at his maturity, he engaged in farming for about 30 years, during which time he was a resident of South Dixon township. He retired from active farming about 17 years ago and came to Dixon where he has resided. During his residence here he practiced magnetic and telepathic healing and through his success, he became known through this section of the central west.

Couldn't Join Army
On October 21, 1873, he was united in marriage to Miss Amanda Young at Somerset, Pa., and to this union four sons and one daughter were born. The four sons preceded him in death and he leaves to mourn his passing, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Cortright of South Dixon, and a granddaughter, Miss Queta Cortright of Cincinnati, Ohio. A grandson, Vernon Cortright, passed away about ten years ago. Miss Cortright was called to the bedside of her grandfather the first of the week, but returned to her duties as teacher in the junior high school at Cincinnati last Thursday evening.

While a young boy, Mr. Smith left home without giving notice and attempted to join the Union army but because of his tender years, was not admitted. He was a member of Dixon camp, No. 56, Modern Woodmen of America.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home, with Rev. A. Turley Stephenson of the First M. E. church officiating.

Risked Danger to Keep Promise to Dixon

Charles R. Walgreen (left), wealthy Chicago drug magnate and former Dixon man, who with twenty-three friends, motored to Dixon today in the former's amphibian plane "Wet and Dry" (above), and a big tri-motored Ford all-metal monoplane, arriving over Dixon shortly after the noon hour.

At an early hour today it was feared weather conditions would prevent the party flying to Dixon from Chicago to dedicate the luminous marker for the Dixon airport, a gift of Mr. Walgreen, but when he was informed of the preparations which had been made here for the visit and was told of the great disappointment that would result if the ceremonies had to be called off he put the matter up to his pilots and friends, and rather than disappoint him and Dixon people, they agreed to run the risk of "low ceiling", high head winds and threatened storms, and left Chicago in the two big planes at 11 o'clock, one hour later than had been planned. The two commercial monoplane, which had been included in plans for the airfield, were not flown to Dixon as it was feared the conditions were too dangerous for them to successfully encounter.

MYSTERY IN LOSS OF FRENCH U-BOAT DEEPENED TODAY

Two Conflicting Statements Made by Captain Greek Ship

Paris, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The French submarine Ondine with 43 men aboard lay irretrievably lost many fathoms deep thirty miles off the shore of Portugal today while a considerable mystery prevailed as to the manner of her sinking by the Greek steamer Alkatemi M. Goulondris.

A statement issued by the Ministry of Marine represented the Captain of the Greek vessel as having searched only two hours for survivors after the collision. A dispatch from the Rotterdam to Le Journal quoted the Captain as having said he searched long and carefully and reported the disaster by wireless to all ships in the vicinity.

Le Journal's correspondent quoted the Captain as relating that his ship was near the Portuguese coast at 11 p. m. Wednesday and all the crew except the watch asleep. The watch gave no warning but suddenly the occupants of the ship felt a violent shock. All rushed to the side. The Captain climbed to the bridge. Both he and the crew then saw clearly ahead of the ship a submarine whose nationality they were unable to distinguish in the darkness.

The Captain was quoted as saying he and the crew realized that the steamer's stem had struck the stern of the submarine. After a few minutes the submarine disappeared beneath the waves. The Captain then examined the bow of his vessel to find out the extent of damage she had suffered. He made urgent repairs and at the same time searched for the submarine. The submarine did not reappear and the Captain immediately warned all ships in the vicinity by wireless and reported that his ship had been in collision with a submarine.

TARIFF QUESTION WILL BE SMITH'S THEME THIS EVE

Democratic Nominee is to Broadcast Address from Louisville

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Governor Smith's train enroute to Louisville, Oct. 13.—(AP)—With four speeches behind him in the Democratic "Solid South" and the border state of Tennessee—all unscheduled before he left New York Wednesday night on his second campaign tour—Governor Smith came on to another political battleground today to let loose a broadside at his opposition on the tariff question.

Tonight at Louisville, which he was due to reach in the forenoon, the Democratic presidential nominee will, to use his own language, attempt to "straighten out" the controversy that has arisen among the chairmen of the Republican and Democratic National Committees Senator Curtis, the Republican vice presidential candidate, and others as to his stand on the tariff.

Tors Into Opponents
Speaking last night before a crowd that jammed into the 5,000 seats at Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, Governor Smith ripped into his Republican opponents and President Coolidge in connection with their farm relief and Muscle Shoals stands, attacked Herbert Hoover's waterpower, and immigration, and outlined his previously declared attitudes on some of these questions.

In speaking extemporaneously, the Governor omitted several paragraphs of the speech which he had prepared in advance dealing with his previously stated views on some issues, but he took almost a full hour for (Continued on page 2)

COOLIDGE TALKS TO KING ALPHONSO OF SPAIN TODAY VIA THE RADIO-TELEPHONE

Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Speaking over a radio and cable circuit 6,500 miles long, President Coolidge and King Alfonso of Spain, inaugurated today radio-telephonic service between their two countries, acclaiming the new means of communication as a great factor in the perpetuation of friendship and peace between them.

Availing himself of his first opportunity to speak by radio-telephone with Europe, Mr. Coolidge told King Alfonso that with the possibility of communicating with far countries by word of mouth "the danger of any serious disagreement is immeasurably lessened."

The Chief Executive also took the opportunity to express to the Spanish King his satisfaction that America and Spain adopted identical attitudes as to the promotion of peace in the world as shown by Spain's

WALGREEN'S AIRCADE IS HERE TODAY

Made Dangerous Flight Rather Than Cause Disappointment

Rather than disappoint hundreds of Dixon people whom he knew would await the announced arrival of his aircade for the dedication of his gift to the people of the community—the marker for the Dixon airport—Charles R. Walgreen and his party of friends flew to Dixon today in the face of great hazards, and the announced ceremonies were carried out, although the program was somewhat delayed by the late arrival of the planes, which were unable to leave Chicago until 11 o'clock.

Early this morning The Telegraph was advised that a flight to Dixon today would be extremely dangerous. The aviators in charge of Mr. Walgreen's interests advised The Telegraph that the weather was extremely bad for flying in Chicago, that it was raining heavily there, that the fliers would encounter a "low ceiling" with very poor visibility and that above the ceiling the U. S. weather bureau reported very high winds. The official weather reports were also to the effect that severe storms were likely Sunday and Monday, should the flight be attempted then.

Mr. Walgreen insists
For a time it was feared by Dixon promoters that all were doomed to a great disappointment, but when Mr. Walgreen was advised of the preparations that had been made for his visit to his old home town—the banquet at the Elks Club this noon, the advertising of the amphibian plane's demonstration on Rock River, the engagement of the band, the organization of the Boy Scouts to help county and state officers handle the crowd at the air field, etc.—he promptly took personal charge, and word came back that an aircade of two planes would leave Chicago at 11 o'clock, despite the dangers which it was apparent they would encounter.

Arriving over Dixon at noon the fliers found Mr. Walgreen's present to Dixon, the luminous Celotex sign spelling the word "Dixon" in letters twelve feet high, installed at the field on the Joseph Crawford farm east of the city on the Lincoln Highway, and they found also a great gathering of people who had assembled to witness the arrival of the squadron. The sign had been set flush with the ground in such a manner that a plane can run over it in alighting, if necessary, and its letters can be read distinctly from a plane hundreds of feet in the air.

Guests at Luncheon
Immediately after their arrival the visitors were rushed to the Elks Club where they were the guests of honor at a luncheon provided by the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, which was attended by many Dixon citizens, who gathered here to pay personal appreciation to this former Dixon man who has succeeded so marvelously in the business world, but who (Continued on page 2) prompt indication that she would become a party to the recently concluded covenant for the outlawry of war.

President Coolidge's voice employed about one-fifth of a second to reach the King of Spain, 6,500 miles away in Madrid. The circuit employed included wire transmission from Washington to Rocky Point, Long Island, whence Mr. Coolidge's remarks were broadcast across 3000 miles of ocean to Cupar, Scotland. From Cupar 1154 miles of direct wire circuit brought the Chief Executive's voice to the border of Spain, over British and French telephone lines and through a submarine cable across the Channel.

The King of Spain's voice was returned by a similar arrangement with the broadcasting plant at Rugby, England, and the radio receiving set at Houlton, Maine.

has at no time forgotten his "old home town." At the luncheon the menu included radishes, olives, fried chicken, candied sweet potatoes, green string beans, head lettuce, Thousand Island dressing, tea biscuits, New York ice cream, cake and coffee.

After the luncheon a short program was enjoyed, at which H. U. Bardwell, Secretary of the Loan & Building Association, and a boyhood friend of Mr. Walgreen officiated. In his inception of the informal program the toastmaster recalled a few very amusing incidents of their boyhood together, and then called upon Mayor Frank D. Palmer for the address of welcome. The mayor fittingly welcomed the guest of honor and his companions to Dixon and extended them the keys of the city during their short stay here. John H. Byers, Secretary of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, made a few remarks, and Judge Harry Edwards delivered the address of the occasion.

Great Demonstration Leaving the club after the luncheon the visitors found the city thronged with people who had come from miles round to see the big planes, they found the city gayly decorated with flags and bunting and they found the Boy Scouts proudly uniformed, helping in direction of traffic.

Then for over an hour the big Sikorsky amphibian plane, "Wet and Dry," gave a most interesting demonstration of landing and taking off from the waters of Rock River, which incidentally were used in christening the big ship in Chicago this week. Hundreds of men, women and children thronged the river bank above Assembly Park to witness the demonstration, which was a decided novelty to everyone of them, very few of whom had ever before seen a plane which could alight on water.

Following the demonstration the big plane returned to the airport where the marker was dedicated fittingly, the ceremony being in charge of William Johnson, Vice President of the Celotex company, its manufacturer.

Poor visibility and a low ceiling, in the terms of the aviators, delayed the arrival of the two huge planes in Dixon this morning. The "Wet and Dry" Sikorsky amphibian plane was the first to land, arriving at the Crawford field at 12:10 making the trip to Dixon in less than 50 minutes. About ten minutes later, the "Grey Goose," tri-motor Ford cabin plane landed with its passengers.

The Walgreen plane was the first sighted and cruised about the field taking observations and flew over Dixon. Returning to the field, the big plane came in from the south and failed in its first attempt to effect a landing. Taking the air, the ship coursed westerly and on the second advance, landed perfectly at the northeast end of the field and taxied back to a point near the Lincoln Highway where the reception committee was in waiting. Those who first arrived in the "Wet and Dry" were as follows:

Members of Party Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen and daughter, Miss Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Jr., Mrs. C. A. Clemmons, Miss Priscilla Sanford and William Lake. The big plane was in charge of Pilot Art Biffle who was accompanied by Mechanic Vopel.

The Grey Goose made a perfect landing after circling the field and had taxied to its position at 12:30, making the trip to Dixon in 45 minutes flying time. Both pilots experienced considerable difficulty from Chicago to Geneva, where flying conditions were much better. None of the passengers experienced "air sickness." In the big Ford plane were the following:

Charles R. Walgreen, guest of honor of the day and former Dixon druggist, Wheeler Sammons, vice president of the G. W. Shaw Publishing Company, Charles B. Corey Jr., James T. Robert, Earl Ayers, assistant editor of the Chicago Herald and Examiner, Charles Hamm, photographer, W. H. Wagner, advertising manager for the Walgreen chain of drug stores, R. G. Schmidt. The plane was piloted by Paul Meng with L. A. Faunce as mechanic.

Crowd Waited Patiently A force of a dozen deputy sheriffs and Boy Scouts patrolled the flying field and held back the huge crowd of interested spectators who waited more than an hour for the delayed planes. State Highway officers patrolled the Lincoln Highway and prevented any traffic congestion. Fully 500 automobiles lined the roadways for almost two hours before the planes arrived and waited patiently until they had taxied to their positions and discharged their passengers. After the reception at the field, the visitors were taken directly to the Elks club house where the program was carried out as arranged.

Two other large passenger planes gave up the trip to Dixon this morning when it was reported at the flying field in Chicago that the trip was a dangerous one. An incoming mail plane was forced to land 75 miles west of Chicago because of poor visibility, cloud banks and low ceiling.

Walter Heatherington of Oregon was a business caller in Dixon on Friday.

ond from Lieutenant Commander Rosendahl, which was 3 hours and five minutes, the ship had by shifting her course northward traveled approximately 150 miles which placed her north of the Bermuda Islands and about 950 miles from them.

New York, Oct. 13—(AP)—With her five 580 horsepower motors driving a steady song of power and speed, Graf Zeppelin, huge trans-Atlantic liner, raced over the Atlantic today at between 75 and 85 miles an hour headed for Lakehurst, N. J., via Bermuda.

Advices of unfavorable weather to the north dictated that the airship pursue a circuitous course to the south. Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander and builder, hopes to land at the United States Naval air station at Lakehurst at noon tomorrow with his cargo of 20 passengers and mail from Friedrichshafen, Germany, demonstrating that crossing the ocean by airship is no longer mere adventure but now is a commercial undertaking.

Four years ago today Dr. Eckener saw the dawn as he approached the Island of Soa Miguel, the Azores, on the ZR-3, now the Los Angeles. At dawn this morning the Azores were well behind him as he directed the Graf Zeppelin, half again as large as the Los Angeles.

Struck Good Weather Good weather aided the airship in making up for time lost in beffeting headwinds over the Mediterranean after leaving Friedrichshafen, Germany, at 2 A. M. Eastern Standard time, on Sunday. In swinging south to Madeira the dirigible entered a region of light variable winds which made passage easier.

If Lakehurst is reached by noon Sunday the airship will have required 82 hours to complete the trans-Atlantic voyage. It is estimated that by taking a southerly route, the airship would have flown 5400 miles, some 4,000 of which will be over the Atlantic. After the craft passed Funchal, Island of Madeira, at 8:30 A. M. yesterday, 2,800 miles over water lay ahead of the airship before Bermuda should be reached and then another 800 miles needed to be covered before the ship could be brought down to the Lakehurst Air Station.

Friday's Last Message The last word from the airship yesterday read: "Three hundred and thirty miles west of Madeira. Altitude 1400. Seventy five miles per hour. Weather good. Heading for Bermuda. Expect arrive Sunday noon, if weather continues. All well. "Graf Zeppelin."

The time of sending was not given. An earlier message sent at 11 A. M. Eastern Standard time, read:

Weather is warm and summerlike. Heading straight for Bermuda. If weather continues good we expect to arrive Sunday noon at Speed 85 miles per hour. Bag of mail dropped over Funchal, Madeira."

Advices from the Azores at 2 P. M. gave the position of the Graf Keppelin as 37:48 north and 33:48 west which would place her 276 miles west by south of Horta, the Azores.

Passengers Ailsrick One message picked up at the Azores said that the passengers, who include three Americans and a woman, were exceedingly ailsrick. Lady Grace Drummond Hay, who hopes to be the first woman to cross the Atlantic by air from east to west, radioed her mother, Mrs. S. T. Lethbridge in England that she found the air voyage wonderfully interesting.

After Graf Zeppelin headed over the Atlantic from Gibraltar reports of her steady progress came from several ships.

Landing Preparations Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 13—(AP)—It may take the Graf Zeppelin 100 hours to cross the Atlantic, but the airship gets to the Naval Air station here in three minutes.

Four hundred and fifty men have been detailed to pull the big dirigible down and run her into the hangar when she arrives.

Once she has been landed, however, the passengers must go through the same formality that steamship passengers are subjected to before being allowed to set foot on American soil. First comes examination by quarantine officials, then immigration inspectors and finally the customs officers. That may take half an hour or more.

GONNERMAN NOW REPRESENTATIVE OF DIXON BEACH

Fine Development Made Along Beach During the Past Year

Ralph E. Unangst, sales manager of the Wise Bros. & Beaudette Co. of Hayward, Wisconsin, who are the developers of the Northwoods Beach of which Dixon Beach is a unit, arrived in Dixon yesterday and at once gave a very interesting report of the progress made this past year in this great recreational project in which so many Dixon Telegraph readers have invested.

Many Dixon people have visited the property this past summer and are very enthusiastic at the progress made and have come into the office of The Telegraph and so expressed themselves.

Mr. Unangst stated that cottages have sprung up like mushrooms and that contracts for many more have been let and building will continue as late as fall will permit. The Community house has been completed and next summer will be the big center of attraction and accommodation for the lot owners to assemble and have their fun. The erection of Northwoods Inn this past year has made a wonderful improvement and has been a very popular place. The approaches to the lakes have been put in and plans are under way at the present time to form an organization known as the Northwoods Beach Club, whose purpose will be to help develop the playgrounds and beaches and assist in any general program to make future developments. The streets are in wonderful shape and have been worked on by the road crews. Plans are in the making of the erection of a hotel and many other lines of business, such as garage, filling stations, etc., are being planned. The fishing has been very good this past summer and reports from the beach still say that there are quite a few still lingering at the property.

Many of the Dixon people who have owned lots have requested that their friends be given an opportunity to secure a location and so Mr. Unangst has appointed Ed Gonnerman of Dixon, who owns several lots and is planning on building his cottage this next year, as special representative of Northwoods Beach. Mr. Gonnerman will be pleased to have his friends call him and if any who have friends who may desire several of these choice summer home site locations, will inform Mr. Gonnerman he will be pleased to give them full details.

The prices of the lots, due to great development that has been made and will continue has brought about an increase in the prices of the lots and January 1st they will be posted at $89.50 per lot.

The Dixon Telegraph wishes to say that if any lot owner desires any information regarding the beach that if they will write Mr. Gonnerman at 422 Hennepin avenue, or phone 993, he will see that Mr. Unangst, the sales manager gives it his personal attention.

Both Mr. Gonnerman and Mr. Unangst are well known by Dixon people and The Telegraph is pleased that these two gentlemen will be in future charge of the Northwoods Beach affairs.

High ideals and standards govern our work and these are imitated by all who participate in the activities. Every contact builds or destroys. Here at the "Y" there is a "Silent Influence," the value of which we cannot estimate. It is said "Character is caught—not taught."

It is earnestly hoped that a spirit of co-operation and an allegiance to the ideals of this department will enable us to arrive at our GOAL. Two hundred members! If everyone works and does her share we will—GO OVER THE TOP!

MENU for the FAMILY

BREAKFAST—Sliced peaches cereal cooked with chopped figs, cream, liver and bacon, corn muffins, milk, coffee.

This is covered with a layer of rice and steamed 45 minutes. Turn out on a hot platter and cut in slices to serve.

Lemon Jelly Cake
One-half cup butter, 1 3-4 cups sugar, 3 eggs, 3 cups flour, 1 cup milk, 4 1-2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon extract.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clearys of Mishawaka, Ind., former Dixon residents, have returned to this city to make their home, and are now located at 704 Highland avenue.

POINTERS FOR PARENTS

One mother said to me, "All the fineness in our character is developed by sacrifice, sorrow, and service to others. If children are to grow into the sort of men and women the world needs, they must be developed through just such methods."

Once we had a garden. The soil was clay and shale. Moreover the garden lay on a hillside where moisture refused to linger. Dry, and hot and barren, it was, and our neighbors laughed when we put it in.

We did not expect much the first year, but we wanted a garden, and it had to be started some time, so we dug in. To our amazement and the neighbors', the seeds not only sprouted, but flourished. The radish bed was a robust green, the peas were ready for vining in no time, the wax beans had leaves almost as large as saucers by the first of June, the tomato plants grew into tall young trees before our amazed eyes. We were ambitious and had put in potatoes. Up they rose like Aladdin's genie.

It was as pretty a garden as I ever seten, and proud, we were of it. I can see it still, its patches of variegated green swaying and rippling on that windy hill.

How we watched for the first beans and the first pea-pods; how we scanned the tomato vines daily for the first golden-starred blossom. Breathlessly we pulled up the flourishing radish tops, hoping to see the red stringy roots filled out a little more toward a toothsome harvest.

But never a bean came, nor a pea nor a tomato, nor a radish, nor a beet, a potato, nor carrot!

There wasn't a thing that came out of our garden on the barren, stony hill.

I don't say that a child's life should be all coddling and cushions and comfort. A little sacrifice, certainly, and service, absolutely. But as for the service—a little of it goes a great way. I should try to keep sorrow out of his experience.

Happiness there must be. It is the nitrate and the lime and all the elements that make for his mental, moral and physical growth. The greatest tragedy in the world is an unhappy child.

With all the training of children this should be kept in mind. There may be wind and storms and cloudy days, and even clay and shale but they won't grow without the nourishment of happiness.

Kingdom-Mt. Union Aid Society Meeting

The Kingdom Mt. Union Aid Society met on Wednesday in an all day meeting with Mrs. Claude Guynn at her country home north of Grand Detour.

At noon the members and guests present enjoyed a delicious scramble dinner.

After dinner the guests spent an hour in gathering nuts on the Guynn farm. When all had again assembled at the house the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Grobe. The meeting was opened by a hymn. This was followed by an appropriate reading read by the president instead of Scripture.

Minutes and roll call were then read by the secretary. It was decided to do some sewing for a needy family. A benefit dinner to be served in the future was then discussed, but nothing definite was decided upon. The members are all urged to be present at the special meeting to be held next Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 12th at the home of Mrs. John Stanley to complete the plans for the benefit dinner.

The program was postponed until the next regular meeting of the society, and at that time the same program committee composed of Mrs. Ivan Floto, chairman; Mrs. Charles Grobe, Mrs. Charles Hanson, and Mrs. George Patterson, assistants, will furnish the program at that meeting.

The business meeting was then closed in its formal way and the guests departed expressing their thanks to Mrs. Guynn for the lovely day spent at her home.

The next regular meeting of the Aid will be held with Mrs. Edward Johnson, at her home in Nachusa, the date to be announced later.

THE DAHLIA—A BUSY MAN'S FLOWER

Some flowers, like the orchid, require a conservatory in which to develop their aristocratic blossoms. The stately lotus must be the center of attractive of an estate. The dahlia requires merely a home garden in which to flaunt its lovely colors. In no place are dahlias seen to better advantage than when clustered about a low, rambling farm house or in some suburban garden. Like the geraniums, they are essentially a home flower, and while we see unusually fine specimens at the flower shows, the ones we see nodding in friendly fashion above some garden gate are the ones we love the most. This flower, of humble origin, today rivals the chrysanthemum in beauty, and is just as easily raised.

While dahlias do well in any sunny location, the ideal place is one with an open situation to the morning sun, some shade at noontime, and full sunshine from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until sundown. Never crowd the plants, as they must have a free circulation of air at all times.

As a class dahlias are not particular about soil, for while they seem to do best in a light sandy loam soil, yet they do splendidly in all kinds of soil from pure sand to heaviest clay, and in the stoniest of gravel soil. All they require is the proper food, water and thorough cultivation. Most authorities, however, agree that a good rich garden loam rich in humus suits them best.

These plants are gross feeders. Any kind of manure or fertilizer that is available may be converted into food. However, most growers agree that bone meal is the best fertilizer for dahlias, no matter what variety you may be growing. One hundred pounds to 300 square feet is supposed to be the proper proportion in which to distribute this material. When you have only a few plants it may seem easier to apply two cupfuls to each plant. This should be applied as a top dressing between the plants, care being taken that this will not come in direct contact with the feeding roots. So do not cultivate immediately after distributing the fertilizer.

Ninety per cent of the weight of a dahlia plant is water. Therefore the stems of these plants are very brittle. A strong wind or heavy shower is apt to break them off close to the roots. In order to avoid such a mishap it pays to stake these plants early in the season.

At least twice a week and as soon after a rain as you can get into the garden, the surface of the soil around these plants must be broken up and stirred. This permits the admission of air to the soil and also helps in the conservation of moisture. A garden that is well cultivated requires only a small portion of the amount of water that the same area would require were it not cultivated. A three-pronged hand cultivator will prove the most satisfactory implement for this purpose. When you have a large patch it is better to use a wheel-hoe. But no matter what tools are used the ground must be kept well stirred. At this time deep cultivation is necessary.

Maybe It's in Ring

Chicago, Oct. 12—(AP)—Another campaign hat has been left in the west. But unlike Gov. Smith, who gave away two brown derbies on his western trip Senator Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, lost his big black hat at Janesville, Wis., last night.

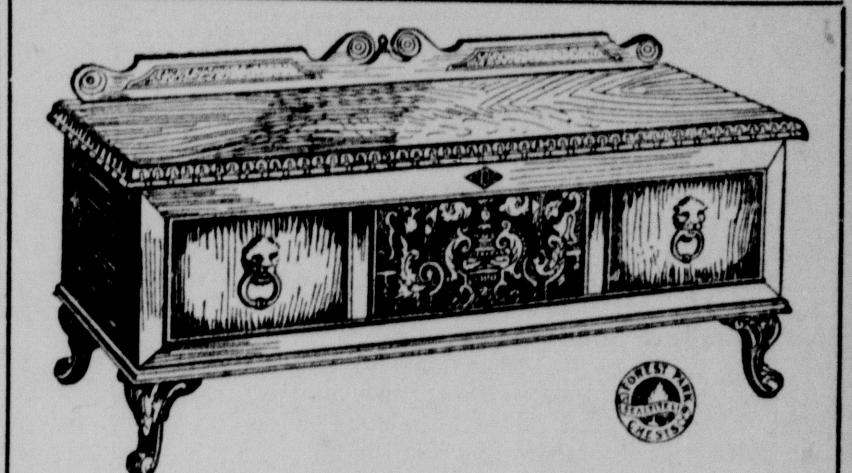

The Senator was quite put out when he couldn't find his hat after the meeting at Janesville last night, but he cheered up again today when he found a duplicate here, of the broad brimmed black felt which he has been wearing. Friends believed a souvenir hunter got away with the Senator's hat.

140 YEARS OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PARADE!

Editor's Note: Grant's defeat of Horace Greeley, and the dire forecast of financial straits in 1873 are described in this chapter of "The Presidential Parade." Rodney Dutcher's series reviewing presidential politics from Washington's day to our own.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.) Washington, Oct. 13.—The corruption of the first Grant administration had become such a stench in the national nostrils by 1872 that many Republican leaders left the party.

They put up a Liberal Republican ticket against Grant and the Democrats, for the first and last time, endorsed a Republican nominee. If the candidate had been anyone but the wild-eyed Horace Greeley, the combination might have won.

The corruption in Grant's two administrations never has been equaled. In 1872 there was much more to come but 1869 had seen Black Friday, when the notorious Jay Gould, with the help of the treasury and Grant's brother-in-law, had tried to corner the gold market, ruining all sorts of people.

Grant Defends Them
Grant was surprisingly obtuse in vigorously defending his friends against public opinion when they turned out to be rascals. At first General Rawlins, his old chief of staff, had guided his steps, but Rawlins died and a man named Belknap from Iowa took his place as secretary of war and the looting began.

There were great public land frauds, accompanied by corruption of Indian agents. Grant held full sway in federal offices and machine bosses became wealthy. The thick-skinned Grant was accepting jewels, horses and other valuable presents from the grafters, though historians say he was personally honest.

Greeley Nominated
Everyone expected the Democrats to support the ticket, and some of them had promised to do so if they could have a good candidate. Adams and Greeley were the two contenders and western Democrats sent word they wouldn't take Adams, so Greeley got it before the convention leaders could concentrate on another man. Brown won second place.

The platform charged Grant with taking gifts in exchange for offices, demanded civil service and other reforms and opposed further land grants to railroads and other corporations.

Greeley's nomination aroused derision. He had many noble qualities and had been an exceptionally brilliant Republican editor, but his erraticism and lack of cool judgment, coupled with his hunger for office, were proverbial.

He had been Democracy's worst critic for 30 years, but the Democratic convention met, adopted the Cincinnati platform and nominated him by an overwhelming vote. A few bolters demanded a regular ticket and met in Louisville to nominate Charles O'Connor of New York, who refused but was not heeded.

Party Sticks to Grant
The Liberal bolt had solidified the Standpat Republicans behind Grant, although other candidates had wasted money on southern delegates and Vice President Colfax, later tarred with the corruption brush, had been a candidate of the corporations.

The harmonious convention met at Philadelphia, nominating Grant and Senator Henry Wilson of Massachusetts after the Washington correspondents had formed a successful cabal against renomination of Colfax. The platform whitewashed the administration and frowned on corruption.

For a time it seemed that Greeley might have a chance, but the great commercial, industrial and financial interests, all up to their necks in post-war inflation, saw the terrible panic of 1873 looming ahead. They became frightened at the thought of Greeley at the head of the government in such a crisis and by late summer they had begun to swing the tide toward Grant. Many citizens figured likewise and accepted Grant as the lesser of two evils.

James A. Garfield wrote privately that Grant was unfit to be nominated and Greeley unfit to be elected. Republican orators were assuring the nation that if Greeley were elected, "before two years, General Grant will be called to put down another rebellion." All this hokum had its effect.

Greeley's Tragedy
Greeley's confidence in his election was child-like, believing that all honest men were combining with Tammany, the Tweed Ring and the Secessionists to put him over. When defeat came, he had been nursing a dying wife night and day and the shock was too great for his weakened resistance. He went back to his editorial job on the New York Tribune and heard of a movement among the stockholders to deprive him of the job he had held so long. Then his mind gave way and he died a few weeks later in an asylum.

Grant carried 31 states. Carpetbaggers still ruled much of the south, but Grant didn't need them. Greeley had only Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Texas losing his own New York, where he had many enemies. The popular and electoral vote:

	Popular	Electoral
Grant	3,597,000	286

Greeley 2,834,000 63

The Prohibition and Labor Reform parties appeared at this election, having nominated James Black of Pennsylvania and Charles O'Connor respectively. They both met at Columbus, O. and were the progressive parties of their day. The prohibitionists proposed prohibition, sober public officials women's suffrage, end of the spoils system and railroad regulation all of which got them 5000 votes in November.

The Labor party, a movement originating in Massachusetts when a shoe manufacturer brought on a carload of Chinese from California to break a strike, demanding the eight-hour day, public utilities regulation, an intelligent business government, civil service reform and a single presidential term. The platform, being considered frightfully radical then, drew 25,000 votes.

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—Earl Conrad, pianist, and more familiarly known as "Coonie," a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conrad, is now playing with Ray Miller's sixteen piece band, recording and broadcasting favorites at the College Inn, Hotel Sherman, Chicago. The orchestra opened its present engagement Thursday night and a number from Rochelle attended. "Coonie" is also a soft shoe dancer and was "all set" to go abroad with an orchestra when the musician's strike tied things up and the booking was cancelled.

Mrs. James Sherlock, Miss Kate Hooley and Mrs. Dan Hooley have issued invitations for an evening bridge party for Thursday at the home of Mrs. Hooley.

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Chandler and Miss Ethel Anderson, of Dixon, left Wednesday morning by motor for Boston, Massachusetts where Dr. Chandler will be in attendance at the meeting of the Congress of Surgeons, which will convene from October 8th to 12th.

Scouting has reached a crisis in Rochelle and on Friday night at a meeting of the parents of the boys and presided over by George Driesback, executive of the Blackhawk are and Joe Westberg, his assistant here, the local patrol were put on probation. If sufficient interest is manifested by the parents and three leaders can be secured a financial drive will be put on to finance the program. Although scouting has been given a most auspicious start in Rochelle, several organizations sponsoring troops, and about a hundred boys enrolled in the three troops of the city at the present time, the officials of the area council want to know if there are enough parents back of the project to make feasible a continuance of the fine program that has been followed and the one which is outlined for the coming year. The Boy Scout troops now active in Rochelle are: Troop 1, sponsored by the Presbyterian church with 27 members; Troop No. 68, sponsored by the American Legion and Troop 61 by the M. E. church.

The annual "Homecoming" of the Rochelle Township High School will be held on Saturday, November 10th. Dixon's football team will play here on that day. Program for the day is in the hands of the Student Body Council and an interesting program is being arranged.

On Saturday, Oct. 13, the undefeated Purple and White football team will go to Sterling to take the gridiron against the strong Sterling high school team. This will be the first conference game for both teams. The Sterling team will be plenty strong and the Rochelle boys will need the support of everyone at this game. Princeton's team of letter men defeated Sterling 26 to 6 last Saturday and for this reason Rochelle anticipates that Sterling will have more reason to fight Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Morris of Rochelle announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Thomas Penn Whiteford of Riverside which took place Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. Elmer at LaGrange, Ill.

The guests were limited to the members of the immediate families. Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss LeVerne Kirby, of Rochelle, to Harry Hobson, of Omaha, Nebraska. The marriage took place in Chicago Monday morning, October 1st at St. Jerome's church. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson will reside in Omaha.

Mrs. Edith Ranger Hemingway was guest of honor Monday evening at a post nuptial miscellaneous shower given at the home of Miss Marian McGinnis on North Lincoln Highway, with Miss Marcella Connolly and Miss Madge Clinite, assisting hostesses. Cards formed the evening's diversion, and a color scheme of orange and brown predominated with baskets of garden flowers. Twenty guests were present. Miss Clare Belle Karger, of DeKalb, was an out-of-town guest.

A. M. Guhl and H. R. Lissack are among the local members of the Ogle County Schoolmasters club which met at Polo Tuesday night. Attorney and Mrs. Floyd J. Tilton are entertaining Mrs. Tilton's mother, Mrs. Mary Bailey of Mayetta, Kansas.

The "Better Yards and Garden" contest judges, after considerable and careful checking, have awarded the season prizes. Each yard and garden was graded on the following points: maintenance and neatness, evidence of improvement and arrangement and placement of flowers. By taking the averages of all entries the following were declared winners in the Class A (newer and smaller yards and gardens): Fred Smardo, first; Mrs. William Bouchard, second; Check Stafford third. In the Class B (older and larger entries) the following were prize winners: Joyce Weeks, first; Charles Hanson, second; and Floyd Caspers, third. The committee found many almost perfect in part of the points. Following are the owners of gardens that deserve honorable mention, being fine ones in many details: Rev. Frank Campbell, Elmer Lindsay, James Gardner, Clarence Oakes, James Drain, Dr. C. P. Clarke and William Stoppel. The prizes were in each class: first, $10.00; second, $5.00; third, $3.00, and winners may select garden plants, roots or bulbs equal to the cash, or choose the cash award. Winners should at once notify Mrs. J. C. Morrison.

The Rochelle business men sponsored the awards, a most commendable thing, and the event was successfully staged under the auspices of the Rochelle Garden Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Maginnis are moving into the lower apartments in the Motlong flats and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Birks will take possession of the upper apartment, Monday.

Hoover Drives Self Hard on Two Talks

BY JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington, Oct. 12—(AP)—Herbert Hoover is driving himself harder this week than he has at any time in the campaign, as he has been faced with the task of preparing two speeches in even less time than he usually has devoted to the writing of a single one.

These addresses are to be delivered on the next two Mondays and that to be made in the Arena at Boston on October 15 had to be in the hands of the printer today to be available to the press by next Sunday.

While the Republican presidential candidate will have four days next week in which to put the finishing touches on the New York address of October 22, he must get the rough draft out of the way before going to Boston as some of his time next week must be given over to political conferences and direction of the campaign.

Each set of Pictures, when cut apart and assembled properly, will make complete portraits of Flyers. The public is invited to put the pictures together and name them. The Chicago Tribune will pay $15,000.00 in Cash Prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correct and nearest complete sets of pictures. See prize list at right.

- The composite pictures must be cut out, assembled and pasted or pinned together. Below each picture must be written the name of the Flyer pictured. A total of 42 pictures will be printed—3 each Sunday for 14 Sundays. IMPORTANT! Hold all pictures until you have the complete set of 42. Then send them to "Aces of the Air," The Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois.
- This contest is open to everyone—men, women, boys and girls—except employees of the Chicago Tribune and their families. It does not matter where you live.
- You pay nothing. Just prove your skill.
- All pictures must be in by midnight 21 days after Set No. 14 is published. Each entry should be sent by First Class Mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the Post Office Department. A letter must be sent with each entry giving the name and address of the sender and telling in 50 words or less which Flyer, in his or her opinion, has accomplished the greatest achievement for the benefit of the world, and why.
- Contestants may send as many sets as they wish, but no contestant will be entitled to more than one prize. No entries will be returned.
- The judging will be based upon the accuracy of putting the pictures together, correctly naming them, neatness, and merit of the accompanying letter. Elaborate entries will receive no greater consideration than the most simple entries. The prime requirement will be accuracy. Therefore any school boy or girl has the same chance to obtain a prize as any man or woman.

- You need not purchase the Chicago Tribune to compete. You may copy or trace the pictures from the Chicago Tribune and assemble the pictures from the copies you have made. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its Offices or at Public Libraries free of charge.
- The judges will be a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree to accept their decision as final. In case of ties a duplicate award will be given each tying contestant.

DISCIPLES WILL HOLD CONVENTION HERE ON TUESDAY

Dixon Church Will be Host to Members of District

Next Tuesday, the Dixon Christian Church will be host to sister-churches of eight adjoining counties, in the presentation of a "One-Day Convention," sponsored by the United Christian Missionary Society of Indianapolis. Thirty-one congregations will compose the group, one of ten in Illinois to be visited by State and National representatives of the general co-operative work of the Brotherhood. This is the 6th year for such informal gatherings, and last year over 54,000 people sat in the conferences and discussions. Two hunfred one Conventions will this month cover all of U. S. and Canada, in this new way of establishing closer contacts between missionaries and missions officials and the supporting churches.

Dixon is fortunate in the caliber and personnel of the speakers coming. Dr. Royal J. Dye, of the great Bolenge Station, Belgian Congo, will be the Director of the Convention, assisted by Miss Joy Taylor of Indianapolis, one of the newer Secretaries. Dr. H. H. Peters and Mr. O. T. Mattox of Bloomington will present State Co-operation. Mrs. C. J. Fardee of Chicago, Woman's Work; and Pres. Bert Wilson of Eureka, the Colleges.

Convention Theme. The "One-Day Convention" theme will be "Sharing With Christ." The Agenda topic for the forenoon session, opening at 10 o'clock is "Making a Missionary Church." In the afternoon, parallel conferences will treat questions of missionary administration and religious education activities; with a final united session at 3:30, on the recently published findings of the Survey Commission. The New Pension Plan for Ministers will be fully explained in the afternoon, also.

At 6:30, a banquet for visitors and Dixon attendants will be served in the church dining room, with the closing messages of the Convention about the tables.

Pastor B. H. Cleaver and the Dixon Church are preparing for a cordial welcome and vigorous participation in this assembly. Of recent years the Dixon Church has come to be noted as a center of this section for inter-church fellowships and gatherings. This Convention, coming soon after the transfer of the United Society's Headquarters from St. Louis to Indianapolis, the completion of the Home and Foreign Survey, and the epoch-making Convention of Illinois State workers and leaders in Peoria, last week, will release to the churches the very latest in progressive and tested-out methods and projects of a united-church-program character.

Several times previously, efforts have been made to secure Dr. Dye as a speaker in the local church. As the founder and for many years the executive head of the Belgian Congo Missions of the Disciples of Christ, he is widely known. His return to America permanently was compelled a few years ago, by Mrs. Dye's failing health; but his labors have been no less ambitious in the home-land, and from his home in Los Angeles he is unable to answer the calls for his presence and messages among the churches.

Miss Taylor is the Head of the Department of Missionary Education of the U. C. M. S., and was previously Educational Director of the Indianapolis Y. W. C. A. She is a graduate of Bethany College, with a degree of M. A. from Columbia University, New York.

As Others See It

A VOICE FROM WISCONSIN
Philadelphia Evening Bulletin
Congressman Frear's declaration for Hoover and Curtis is of considerable importance in any attempt to gauge the political currents in Wisconsin. The Congressman is the first of the so-called LaFollette bloc to declare for the regular Republican ticket. He is a veteran of LaFolletteism in Wisconsin. Prior to his long service in Congress, his present term, for which he had no opposition, being his eighth, he served in both branches of the Wisconsin Legislature in the heyday of the domination of the elder LaFollette at Madison.

Mr. Frear represents the tenth Congressional district over in the west of the state, on the Minnesota border. It is old lumber country, now chiefly given over to agriculture, but contains three thriving industrial towns, Menominee, Chippewa Falls and Eau Claire. In the presidential fight of 1924 it was carried for the senior LaFollette against President Coolidge, who polled about forty-two per cent of the vote, or slightly above the proportion of regularity throughout the state.

Congressman Frear's declaration may reasonably be taken to mean that he is convinced, after long political experience that his district, typical in population and diversity of interest of most of the state, sees no substance in the claims made for Governor Smith of a political Progressivism sympathetic to the LaFollette brand.

Wisconsin progressivism made its converts among a population fundamentally Republican by tradition and background. The New York Governor's candidacy carries no appeal that can outweigh the natural tendency of such voters to Republicanism. Most of them have never ceased to regard themselves as Republicans, even while voting as LaFollette Progressives.

Curious Facts About Presidents

CANDIDATES NOT UNDER OWN NAMES

Neither the Republican presidential candidate nor vice presidential candidate ran under his own name in 1872.

President Grant's name was Hiram Ulysses Grant, but an error at West Point had entered him as Ulysses S. and he kept it for life.

The true name of Henry Wilson, who became vice president with Grant for the former's second term, was Jeremiah Jones Colbath, which he changed when he became of age. He was a self-educated Natick cobbler, elected to the Senate from Massachusetts in 1855, and helped form the Republican party.

ILLINOIS QUIZZES

Q—Can you tell me how Illinois ranks among the states in the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment?

A—Illinois ranks first. It averages to manufacture approximately $70,000,000 worth of farm equipment each year. This output comes from forty-two plants employing approximately 16,500 persons. Their wages total more than $24,000,000 a year.

HELP'S AT HAND

If HARM is at hand, HELP isn't far off, at least not in letter golf. For today is four and one solution is on page 9.

H	A	R	M
H	E	L	P

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in part, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, is three strokes. COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

One solution is printed on page 9.

OBITUARY

MRS. JERRY SULLIVAN

Sunday evening at nine o'clock Mrs. Jerry Sullivan passed away at her home six miles northwest of Ohio after an illness of several weeks' duration. Mrs. Sullivan was operated on for cancer in August from which she seemed to have recovered fully, but soon after, cancer of the throat developed and she failed rapidly until the end came peacefully on Sunday evening.

Elizabeth Dunn Sullivan was truly a pioneer of this locality. She was the second oldest in the family of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Dunn, Lee County pioneers, and was born in Hamilton Township, Lee County, Sept. 28th, 1861. At the age of sixteen years she became one of Lee County's public school teachers and continued in the work for several years in Lee, Bureau and Whiteside counties.

On May 4th, 1892 she became the wife of Jerry Sullivan and lived on the homestead where she breathed her last practically all the time since they were married. Seven children blessed this union, all of whom were with their mother during most of her illness. The children are Mrs. Vincent Daniel and Mrs. Frank Daniel of Burlington, Colorado; Frank and Joseph of Chicago, Edward, who resides near the old home, Mrs. Leo Faley who resides at home and Elizabeth also at home.

Mrs. Sullivan is also survived by her husband, six brothers and three sisters. The brothers are M. F. Dunn of Ohio, John F. of Minnesota, Jas. P. of Chicago, Stephen V. and Robert of Center, N. D. and Joseph of Chicago. The sisters are Mrs. Wm. Ryan of Chicago and Sister Fresa and Magdalen of Ottawa. They were all present at the funeral. There were also twelve grandchildren and numerous other relatives.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the Catholic church in Maytown an interment was made in St. Mary's Cemetery, at Ohio.

Mrs. Sullivan was a woman of sterling character, a devout Christian, a devoted wife, a loving mother, a kind neighbor and a faithful servant to her family, relatives, neighbors and friends, she always stood for the highest and best, giving of herself freely to every worthy cause and the beautiful floral offerings and the kindness shown by all who knew this estimable woman shows how dear she was to everyone. Her loss will be felt by all who knew her.

ALICE A. BRIMBLECOM was born at Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 16th, 1861, and passed away at Chicago, Oct. 8th, 1928. She is survived by three sisters and two brothers, Harriett of Byron, Ill.; Bessie, of Chicago; Nellie, of Everett, Washington state; Francis Edward, of Chicago, and S. W. of Waukegan, Ill. She received her early education in the Waukegan school, later she attended the Ferris and Hartwell school at Dixon. She completed her education at the Mrs. Shiner Seminary at Mt. Carroll, Ill., graduating from that school with high honors. She commenced her work as a teacher at Light House Point. She taught for some years in the grade schools of Ogle county. For the past forty years she has been a teacher in D. S. Wentworth grade school of Englewood. Her wonderful personality and love for her work placed her in the head ranks of her great profession and the lives of thousands of children have been moulded and amplified and have been lifted to a higher plane in life. Her great life's work is ended. She has gone out into the twilight and the evenings shadows have hidden her from our sight, but her love abides in our hearts.

"The south wind murmurs for the flowers Whose breath she lately bore, And sighs to find them in the wood And by the streams no more."

"My dear, it was for your own good."

"That's what people always say when they tell me hateful things. Oh, I'm not sure, Mab, or anything like that. You've simply opened my eyes to what you really think of me, and since you've been so frank, I'll be as honest with you."

"I am going to see John Lawrence tonight, exactly as I had planned. And, my dear, if you don't like it, you'd better chloroform your sensibilities. You're too darn Victorian. Mab—that's what the matter with you. . . . Here, Teddy angel. . . . Where are your mittens. Precious?"

Sybil turned her son's chin up and pulled his earflaps down.

"Kiss Auntie Mab, Sweet."

Mabel lifted him in her arms again.

"Goodby, darling little boy. Sib, if I had a child like Teddy, I'd cut my right hand off before I'd draw a breath to jeopardize his future."

Sybil laughed. "Gertie Gloom!" she taunted.

KITTY BURNS was a stenographer in the office of the Alford Shoe Machinery Company. The girls all thought she looked like Clara Bow, with her big, brown eyes 'at flashed and rolled like a first-class movie vamp.

Frivolity was a sort of veneer with Kitty. Beneath her raspberry rouge, she was sweet and guileless as a little plaster saint.

One morning, Roger Caldwell, dropping in, leaned over Kitty's desk and asked if he might see her that evening. For six weeks that same young man had been Kitty's "intention," and to win his notice she had prayed that God might make him look her way.

It was a very quiet little romance. Roger had been baptized and confirmed, and a Kitty accepted the pledge, before Kitty accepted the dazzling solitaire he chose. Then she gave two weeks' notice, and the girls gave her a miscellaneous shower and a mahogany butterfly table. The banns were published, and Roger bought the wedding ring.

The wonder of the thing never dimmed.

"Oh, why," they asked each other, "why did YOU ever love ME?"

It was seven o'clock, and Kitty in her little room at the Franklin Square House was getting worried.

"Are you SURE, girls, there wasn't a message before I came in?"

"For heaven's sake! NO! How many more times are you going to ask? He's gone back on you, Kitty. . . . He's too handsome to be true!"

But she laughed at their humor. "There's the phone now! What do you bet it's not for me?"

She raced down the hall, and they heard her before the booth door closed: "Hello . . . hello, dear. You can't? Oh, that's too bad. No, I don't care—not really. It doesn't make a bit of difference . . ."

from our sight, but her love abides in our hearts.

Submarine and Crew of Forty-Three Lost

Paris, Oct. 12.—(AP)—The French submarine Ondine, overdue for the past three days, was sunk by a Greek ship off Oporto during the night of the third of October. She had aboard three officers and forty men.

The Ondine, which was 600 tons, left Cherbourg on an endurance trial run Oct. 1. She was last heard from on Oct. 3 by a Spanish wireless station. Her position was then given as off Cape Finisterre.

The Ministry of Marine fears that all hands aboard the submarine perished.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

BIGGEST CROWD IN HISTORY TO
SEE GREAT GAME

Spectacular Glamour is Characteristic of Chicago Battle

BY PAUL R. MICKELSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Before 120,000 or more spectators, the largest football throng ever assembled in America, two Trojan elephants, Notre Dame and the Navy, were ready to match speed and brawn in the arena of massive Soldier Field today.

Other gridiron classics there have been, but from the standpoint of attendance, celebration, color and romance, this duel between two fighting teams that already have been beaten promised to be the greatest spectacle of their all, rivalling in splendor even the field days of ancient Rome.

For Chicago, which also had the important Iowa-Chicago and Ohio State-Northwestern games on its program, it was by far the red letter day in football history. More than 200,000 were expected to watch the three games, and the city seethed with activity. Streets were jammed and thousands of police striving to keep the tremendous traffic moving.

Spectacular Glamour
The glamour of the spectacle at Soldier Field, which attracted scores of celebrities, all but dwarfed the outcome of the contest between Knute Rockne's Ramblers and "Navy Bill" Ingram's Midshipmen. Among the box holders were Vice President Charles G. Dawes, Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, other high naval officials, and many movie stars, including Gloria Swanson, Lew Cody, Norma Shearer and Molly O'Neill, a dyed in the wool Notre Dame rooter. On the sidelines room was made for baseball's two behemoths of swat, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the New York Yankees' "Home Run Twins." The Bambino was a Notre Dame rooter, while Larrupin Lou was out for the Navy. Six bands, among them those from the Naval Academy at Annapolis and from Notre Dame, were ready to flare forth. The Navy's goat, too, was on the scene.

With a fleet backfield and a comparatively weak line, Knute Rockne's men depended on speed, while the Navy, with its heavier line, depended on brawn. Both coaches indicated plenty of kicking and enough forward passing to keep the great throng on edge.

Game time was 2:30 P. M. Central Standard Time. Nine stations, KYW, WGN, WLS, WBAL, WHAM, KWK, WLW, WJZ and KRPC, were hooked up under the National Broadcasting Company's chain to broadcast play-by-play details of the game.
